NAME OF PROJECT	: The Pag-IBIG Fund COVID-19 Strategic Communication Program
OBJECTIVE AND NATURE OF PROJECT	The Home Development Mutual Fund, more popularly known as Pag-IBIG Fund, is a state-managed corporation that was created in the 1980s. An acronym for “Pagtutulungan sa Kinabukasan: Ikaw, Bangko, Industriya at Gobyerno” (English: Cooperation for the Future: You, the Bank, Industry and the Government), Pag-IBIG Fund continues to uphold its twin mandates of: (1) mobilizing the savings of Filipino workers through a nationwide membership savings program; and (2) providing an affordable financing scheme for its members who wish to acquire their own homes. Coming from a string of record-breaking accomplishments over the past years, Pag-IBIG Fund was motivated to make 2020 another banner year. The agency even began the year strong as it financed PHP 12 billion worth of home loans in just the first month. However, the effect of coronavirus disease (COVID-19) in the Philippines has transformed the country’s economic and employment landscape, which also affected Pag-IBIG Fund. Poised to finance PHP 100 billion worth of mortgages, the Fund saw a drastic decrease in the home loan applications in the preceding months after the country was placed in lockdown to help curb the spread of the virus. But more than pursuing its mandate of promoting savings and shelter financing, Pag-IBIG Fund saw its responsibility of offering a financial lifeline and support to distressed Filipino workers it has vowed to serve. Right after the declaration of a lockdown for the entire Luzon on March 2020, the Pag-IBIG Fund Board initiated a three-month moratorium program for all its loan borrowers for both its housing loan or short-term loan (STL) programs. Pag-IBIG Fund also immediately granted automatic grace periods on loan payments of its members totalling nearly 6 months, following the signing of President Rodrigo Roa Duterte of Republic Act (RA) No. 11469 or the Bayanihan to Heal as One Act and Republic Act (RA) No. 11494 or the Bayanihan to Recover as One Act. To ensure that the availability of these special programs were made known to the public, extensive communication efforts were conducted to encourage application and inform members of the benefits of these programs, so that it can rightfully help in relieving their financial burden. Pag-IBIG Fund stepped up to the task and aggressively promoted, not just the Pag-IBIG Fund’s programs in response to the pandemic, but also other relevant services of the agency, especially during the lockdown period. This

	ranged from key services like cash loans and availability of contact channels, to newly launched services like the online short-term loan filing via its online service portal, the Virtual Pag-IBIG. The overall goal is to inform Pag-IBIG Fund members on the availability of special processes and programs and its continued services amid the pandemic, which can assist them cope and recover from the COVID-19 pandemic, as well as have them take advantage of the newly launched online facility which is Virtual Pag-IBIG as a more convenient and safer way to avail Pag-IBIG services. By employing efficient communication efforts, it allowed the more than 12 million Pag-IBIG members access to its services, further establishing Pag-IBIG Fund as a dependable government financial institution that Filipino workers can lean on during the most difficult of times.
WHY IT SHOULD BE RECOGNISED	: Pag-IBIG Fund strategized and applied the appropriate and available communications channels to execute its information campaign to cover all its publics. Pag-IBIG Fund implemented its communication campaigns, while and despite the pandemic, based on key factors: accessibility, speed, and efficiency. Since the target audience is the more than 12 million members of Pag-IBIG Fund scattered in the islands of the Philippines, as well as overseas workers around the world, it has been realized that broadcast media is imperative to reach its publics. However, the dissemination of information should also widely extend via online or digital platforms. Pag-IBIG Fund recognized the increasing use of such platforms, as majority of its members were confined to their homes due to the lockdown. With this, Pag-IBIG Fund used broadcast and print media, news exposure and interviews to release announcements; and utilized digital media (particularly Facebook) to explain such announcements and news releases through posts in their official Facebook Page and contact channels. Pag-IBIG Fund also engaged with the country’s major organizations of business owners, and labor and trade unions, like the Employers’ Confederation of the Philippines (ECOP), to conduct webinars for employers and human resource practitioners to better explain how the Pag-IBIG Fund programs may be availed of despite the lockdown, the health and safety protocols, and without exposing the workers to the risk of Covid-19 infection. Pag-IBIG Fund also devised key messages which targeted different stakeholders to effectively respond to their needs. The agency’s overarching message being: “Pag-IBIG Fund is a dependable institution that you can rely on, even amid the pandemic.” With its strategic and efficient communication plan in place, Pag-IBIG Fund achieved the following as reported during its 2020 Chairperson’s Report: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 4.77 million members were granted automatic grace period under Bayanihan to Heal as One Act (R.A. 11469) • 3.69 million members were granted 60-day grace period under Bayanihan to Recover as One Act (R.A. 11494)
